LOCAL CLUB WOMEN WILL TAKE PART IN FEDERATION

SHAKESPEARE SECTION WILL GIVE THIRD AND FOURTH SCENES FROM PLAY

At the convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs which opens tomorrow at the Pilgrim Congregation church in Pomona, the Shakespeare section of the Glendale Tuesday Afternoon club will present the third and fourth scenes of Act IV from the "Taming of the Shrew" and the sleep walking scene from "Macbeth."

On account of the limited program, the local women will have but a short time in which to display their histrionic ability, but judging from performances here, there seems to be no question that their selection for the opening day's program of the convention is well advised. Several Glendale club representatives will attend all of the federation sessions.

Roll Call in Morning

At the morning session, routine business will be attended to and a roll call of the clubs. In the afternoon there will be a brief program of reports, greetings and assembly singing to be followed by the Shakespearean presentations, the casts of which are as follows:

"Taming of the Shrew:" Catherine, Mrs. Calvin Whiting; Petruchio, Mrs. A. H. Montgomery; Grumio, Mrs. O. E. Von Oven; Hortensio, Mrs. Walter Jones; Vincentio, Mrs. E. L. Yard; the tailor, Mrs. B. Holbrook.

"Macbeth," sleep-walking scene: Lady Macbeth, Mrs. H. W. Ralston; gentlewoman, Mrs. Colin Cable; the doctor, Mrs. C. L. Canfield.

Henry Grauel, aged ninety years, passed away yesterday at his residence, 3506 Perlita avenue. He is survived by his wife, four sons, three daughters and one adopted daughter, Charles W. and Fred C. Grauel of Los Angeles, Mrs. Emma McMillan and Mrs. Mary Schont of Los Angeles, William S. Grauel and George H. Grauel, Mrs. Lida Harnett and adopted daughter of Meadville, Pa. Funeral arrangements will be announced later, L. G. Scovern Undertaking company in chrge.

H. S. Webb Purchases Lot, Paying $10,000

H. S. Webb of the H. S. Webb company department store has purchased the business lot on the north side of the 200 block on East Broadway from E. U. and Owen Emery upon which the latter had intended to build. The deal was made through Cameron Thom of the Glendale Realty company. It is understood the consideration was $10,000.

Henry Braun, Age 70, Dies; Funeral Tuesday

Henry Braun, aged seventy years, passed away this morning at his residence, 800 South Glendale avenue. He is survived by his wife, three daughters and one son. Funeral services will be held from the Little Church of the Flowers tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock, L. G. Scovern Undertaking company in charge.

Fourth Generation Is In Existence In City

In the birth of an 8½-pound baby daughter to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. McIntyre, 135 North Cedar street, at 7:45 o'clock, a fourth generation comes into existence in Glendale. The young lady possesses two great grandfathers and a great grandmother which is some distinction.

Mrs. Greely C. Kolts Visits Friends Here

Mrs. Greely C. Kolts, former resident and prominent church worker of Glendale, was back in the "old home town" yesterday visiting friends. The Kolts are now living in Los Angeles, where Mr. Kolts is in the printing and stationery business.

Ralph E. Miles To Make Business Trip

Ralph E. Miles, proprietor of the Schaffer Dye Works, is planning on making a business trip to San Francisco some time next week. He will motor up through the central part of the state, and will be gone for several days.

Today's World News In Brief

(By United Press to Glendale Evening News)

EXCLUSION OF ALL JAPANESE IMMIGRATION IS URGED

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Absolute exclusion of all Japanese immigration was urged to the house immigration committee today.

SEEKS TO HALT DEPORTATION OF DONAL O'CALLAGHAN

WASHINGTON, April 18.—A resolution to prevent the deportation of Donal O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, was introduced in the house today by Representative Sabath, Democrat, of Illinois. It declares that O'Callaghan is a political refugee and that to deport him would be against American principles.

TWELFTH CHESS GAME DRAWS AT THIRTY-FIRST MOVE

HAVANA, April 18.—Jose Capablanca and Emanuel Lasker took a holiday in their chess championship match today. Their twelfth game ended last night in a draw at the thirty-first move. The score for the series stands:

| | Won | Lost | Draw |
|---|---|---|---|
| Lasker | 0 | 3 | 9 |
| Capablanca | 3 | 0 | 9 |

JAPAN DETERMINED NOT TO SURRENDER ISLAND OF YAP

WASHINGTON, April 18.—Japan's firm determination not to surrender the island of Yap is stated emphatically in a series of five notes between the United States and Japan made public today by the state department. The correspondence covering a period of nearly six months, lays bare for the first time the whole secret negotiations over the island of Yap, which has created one of the most serious issues of the day.

WEEKS WILL BE NECESSARY TO CLEAR TORNADO DEBRIS

TEXARKANA, April 18.—Relief work in the Texas-Arkansas tornado area was well under way today with the Red Cross and American Legionnaires taking a leading part. Weeks will be necessary to completely clear the debris in some areas, including Hempstead county, Ark., where nearly two score whites and negroes were reported dead and scores injured. Much work also remains to be done in Miller county, where eighteen are dead and scores injured. Burial of the dead was practically completed today.

BRITISH SOLDIERS KILL THREE MEN RESULT 'MISTAKE'

DUBLIN, April 18.—Battling fiercely in a darkened barroom at Castle Connell, County Limerick, two groups of British soldiers today killed three men and wounded several more before discovering neither side was Sinn Fein. The fighting started when a crowd of soldiers in civilian clothes walked into the barroom with drawn revolvers. Civilians at the tables started up, emptying their own revolvers at the supposed Sinn Feiners. The fight ended when one soldier yelled a familiar battle cry.

HUNDREDS OF SMALL BUSINESS FIRMS FORCED TO CLOSE

LONDON, April 18.—Appalled at the creeping paralysis attacking her industries, Great Britain today lost some of her joy at the cancellation of the triple alliance strike. Hundreds of small business houses closed their doors today, unable to continue without increased supplies of coal. The expense of meeting the situation and the suffering of thousands of unemployed continued unabated. To cut the cost somewhat, the great food distribution centers were disbanded and the parks again were open to the public. Thousands passed through the playgrounds which a few hours before had been filled with tins and cases of provisions intended to withstand labor's siege. Recruiting of defense forces continued.

SALVATION ARMY INDUSTRIAL HOME IS DESTROYED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 18.—One hundred and fifty men—all jobless, homeless wanderers—were driven from the Salvation Army industrial home early today when fire destroyed the building. Edward Manning, one of the lodgers, discovered the fire. He went to each of the three dormatories and aroused the fifty sleepers each room contained. Then, with two policemen in charge, the men were marched in orderly manner from the burning building. Each man carried a little bundle in his hands, representing in most cases, all of his worldly belongings. "Old Blind John" and George Stoll, both sightless, were carried out. They had lived at the home for seventeen years. The property loss was placed at $25,000.

Military Funeral For Fred J. Schlicter, 21

A military funeral is being held this afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Jewel City undertaking parlors for Fred J. Schlicter, aged 21 years, a son of Mr. and Mrs. August Schlicter of 241 North Howard street. Interment is in Forest Lawn cemetery with the following American Legion men as pallbearers: Jesse E. Smith, Joseph Kucera, Al Moniot, Fred Butts, Louis Roberts, Dru Nicoles and T. D. Watson. Ed Moniot sounds taps on the bugle and the following members of the Fifth Separate company, National Guard, is acting as a firing squad: Sergeant George Grist, E. Jodon, M. Lawyer, Bernard Dennison, Roy Weetman, James Hill, Paul Holland, Kenneth Jackson and Robert Stone.

Young Schlicter is reported to have died as the result of pneumonia contracted while doing guard duty at the inaugural ceremonies on March 4. He was stationed at Quantico, Va., and a member of the Fifth regiment of sharpshooters, company 51.

ATTEND THEATRE PARTY

Mrs. R. F. Kitterman and Miss Lavera Kitterman of 311 North Kenwood street chaperoned the following members at a theatre party in Los Angeles Saturday afternoon: Miss Pauline Wilson, Miss Janice Cecil, Harriet Beattie, Charlotte Cleveland, Frances Betz and Miss Kathryn Kitterman.

GIVE BLESSINGS TO CATHOLIC CHURCH CORNERSTONE

RT. REV. PATRICK HARNETT OFFICIATES ON SUNDAY AT IMPRESSIVE SERVICE

Blessing of the cornerstone of the Church of the Holy Family at Elk avenue and Louise street Sunday afternoon proved a beautiful and impressive ceremony with the Rt. Rev. Patrick Harnett, V. G., of Los Angeles, officiating. Several thousand persons were in attendance and speeches were made by Monsignor Harnett, Mayor Dwight W. Stephenson and John Steven McGroarty. The Rev. Father James S. O'Neill, pastor of the church which is erecting the new edifice, presided.

After the blessing was read at the cornerstone by the prelate and assisting priests, a collection was taken by the committee in charge of the services and a substantial number of bricks will be purchased with the offering.

Monsignor Harnett Speaks

Father O'Neill introduced the three speakers and in introducing Monsignor Harnett, he said that he was the pioneer priest and founder of the Sacred Heart church in Los Angeles east side, and that he formerly had the Verdugo foothills as his charge prior to the establishing a Catholic church in Glendale.

"Many a time he has come out here in the rain to attend a sick call in the mountains," said the Reverend O'Neill, "and now he comes for the dedication of this church."

Monsignor Harnett spoke of the ritual used and said that the cornerstone was laid in the name of "the Father, Son and Holy Ghost to the honor and glory of the great God."

This Debator Can Lose And Still Be Victor; He Asserts So Himself

"Even though I should not win Thursday night's debate with Covina high school, I shall still be VICTOR!"

That's what Victor Colburn is telling his friends at Glendale Union high school since he has replaced Douglas Forsythe on the affirmative team with Francis Reed. Forsythe has been forced to quit on account of illness.

While Colburn and Reed are arguing at Covina, Miss Kathleen Campbell and Tom McNary will defend the question, "Resolved: That the United States should introduce a system of responsible cabinet government" at the local high school auditorium.

The debate will start at 8 o'clock.

BIRTHDAY ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. G. Philips, Victor Danieis, Harold Philips, Miss Eva Daniels and Reba Philips of 324 West Colorado street were the guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Levitt of Los Angeles, the occasion being the 13th birthday anniversary of their son Milton, who was a former pupil in the Glendale schools.

Ground Is Broken For Another Building

Ground was broken this morning on the southwest corner of California avenue and Brand boulevard for the erection of the two-story Kranz business block.

The real estate boom on Brand boulevard seems to be in its infancy, as yet. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lawson, who recently purchased additional lots on Brand boulevard both on the west side of the street, between Wilson and California avenues, and on the east side of the street next to property already owned by them, are contemplating the erection of a store building which would cover 100 feet of the frontage owned by them on the west side of the street in that block. They have also purchased a 75-foot lot on the west side of Brand boulevard south of the Bartlett property at Lexington Drive.

The Lawsons own, perhaps, the largest frontage of close-in Brand boulevard property of any property holder, having nine lots on this thoroughfare.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawson also report the sale of the Princeton apartments.

VISIT OCEAN PARK

Mrs. Anna L. Curtis, principal of the Cerritos avenue school, and Mrs. Pearl Moore, president of the Parent-Teacher association of that school, accompanied a group of 30 eighth grade pupils to Ocean Park Saturday, the trip being made in a truck driven by Richard Ryan. The party left Glendale about 7:39 a. m. and returned at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Work Progressing On Lodge At Monte Vista

Work is progressing nicely on the Monte Vista Lodge, which is being transformed into a home for undernourished children of Los Angeles county. Mrs. R. W. Meeker, Glendale chairman, who is superintending the finishing and furnishing of the kitchen, reports that the electricians' union has donated over $1200 worth of material and time in wiring the lodge and furnishing fixtures.

The plumbers' union and carpenters' union are also contributing their time and material for this worthy cause. Yesterday members of the local carpenters' union who were working at the lodge were G. C. Slate, E. E. McQuivy, A. McIntyre, F. Lake, F. S. Jackson, O. G. Thompson and C. Cheney. It is anticipated that a like number will respond to the call for volunteers for next Sunday, which matter will be taken up at the local carpenters' union meeting Tuesday night.

Mrs. Meeker and Mrs. Ella W. Richardson motored to the lodge yesterday, as did a number of the ladies of various organizations in Los Angeles county, and served dinner to the men who are donating their services. It is suggested that a community picnic be held next Sunday at the Oak Grove, Monte Vista. People of Glendale can help by furnishing lunch for these active workers.

L. T. Rowley Attends Banquet For Alumni

L. T. Rowley, of 334 Vine street, was among the 200 guests present at a banquet Saturday night in Los Angeles at the Gates hotel, the occasion being the monthly get-together of the Southern California Alumni Association of the University of Minnesota. After the dinner had been served several short addresses were made and a general good time was enjoyed. Mr. Rowley was one of the oldest, if not the oldest, of any of the graduates present. He was a member of the class of 1882.

Basil R. Green Is Visitor In Glendale

Basil R. Green of 135 North Gage street, Los Angeles, was the week-end visitor of his old schoolmate, Armand Darr, of 816 East Colorado street. He is a former Glendale resident, having formerly lived on Colorado street with his mother, Mrs. Ethel Green, but who since has become Mrs. Tom Dolan.

Mrs. Dolan is now residing in Whittier, where her husband is employed as a foreman in nearby oil fields.

Mrs. D. E. Sanker Out After Long Illness

Friends of Mrs. D. E. Sanker of 330 Vine street, who has been ill at her home for some time past, will be pleased to hear that she was able to enjoy a short automobile ride Saturday afternoon for the first time in more than two months. Mrs. Sanker is steadily improving and it is hoped that she will be able to leave her sick bed in the near future.

INAUGURAL BALL BY LOCAL ELKS BIG SOCIAL EVENT

MORE THAN 200 ARE PRESENT AT DANCE; DECORATIONS PROVE VERY UNUSUAL

Fully 200 people attended the inaugural ball given by Glendale lodge of Elks in its ballroom Saturday night. On any other occasion this might well have been termed the purple and white dance, as these, the Elk's colors, were carried out in the decorations, refreshments and favors.

Harry Whaley of the entertainment committee called the grand march at 9 o'clock. This was lead by the new exalted ruler, Alfred F. Priest and wife, who were followed by John H. Fanset, past exalted ruler, and wife, other officers of the lodge and their ladies, and members and their ladies.

The programs were very clever and were carried out in the purple and white color scheme. Music for the dancing was furnished by Henning's five rhythmic harmonists, each dance calling for repeated encores.

Decorations Unusual

During the intermission at 10:30 p. m., the guests adjourned to the banquet room, where brick ice cream and French pastries, with purple and white icing, were served. Dancing then continued until 12 o'clock.

The decorations were very unusual. The general idea was copied from the decorations carried out in a French restaurant in San Francisco during Portola week, and was ably arranged by the entertainment committee under the direction of Joe E. Bellue, chairman. Other members of the committee are Jack Hearnshaw, Harry Whaley, Bob Jensen, E. P. Hayward and W. B. Kelly.

From each of the six large light domes were draped purple and white tissue paper festoons, these also being draped from one side of the room to the other and from the center to each of the six large lights.

Favors Are Distributed

At each officers' station the clusters of lights were purple, above which were American flags. A beautiful bouquet of white carnations and purple iris decorated the exalted ruler's stand.

Favors for the ladies consisted of wristlets of tiny bells on an elastic band and tied with purple and white ribbons, and for the gentlemen purple crepe paper tassels with white tassels.

A kaleidescope of color was seen in the costumes of the ladies, as this was a semi-formal dance and many of them wore evening gowns.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION

Miss Eva Daniels, publicity chairman of the Tuesday Afternoon club, will attend the annual press luncheon tomorrow at the Pomona convention of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's clubs.

Opening Meeting at Tabernacle Complete Success; Next Service for Women Tuesday

The opening meeting at the tabernacle last night was a great success, and was an encouraging omen for the future. Before the opening hour, 7:30 o'clock, every seat was filled and many stood throughout the evening. The first part of the service was a musical program of unusual merit, consisting of a solo, duet, trio, quartet, chorus and congregational singing.

Dr. C. M. Crist, president of the Ministerial Association, presided. Dr. C. A. Calderwood made the opening prayer. Rev. E. E. Ford announced that owing to the earnest request of the churches at Hanford, Evangelist Brown had prolonged his engagement up there two days, and that his first appearance in Glendale will be on Tuesday night. He stated that an able representative, Mrs. Frances Neth, a member of the party, would deliver the address.

Dr. W. E. Edmonds introduced the speaker and referred to her as an efficient Bible worker, and one who has been a valued member of the Brown party for several years. Mrs. Neth is a lady of pleasing personality, a deliberate and easy speaker and a thorough Bible student. The topic of her address was "A Lesson in Contrast"; text Ephesians, second chapter, first nine verses, in which the apostle describes the condition of the church at Ephesos by nature and then the change performed by grace. The speaker said in part:

"Some people are very much concerned about their ancestry. Some would trace them back to the time when they lived in the trees and swung on the limbs and fed on a diet of nuts. But for my part I make no such claim. My ancestry goes back to Adam, and the word teaches us that through Adam we were all bequeathed a sinful and vicious nature and needed a savior, and that in the course of time the second Adam—Christ—came to restore us to life. 'I am come,' said he, 'to give you life and to give it to you more abundantly.' He came but for one purpose—to give life to dead people.

"Oh, that Christians would grasp this truth! This new life by faith, not by works, lest any man should boast. So essential to the Kingdom of God. So necessary to an everlasting life. How can I get it? I never could believe that God would make such a great sacrifice for just a few, or make it so complex that only the wise could understand it. He has offered it to all who will accept it. John 1-12 reads: 'But as many as received him, to them gave he power to become the sons of God, even to them that believe on his name.' There is nothing to pay. It has all been given.

"This transforming work of Grace, can I explain it? No, I can not. Is it a miracle? Yes. A mystery? Yes. A fact, a reality? Yes. A contrast between man and God. Each a part to perform. God saves man to service that we may be witnesses for him, heralds of his message, ambassadors of his court. As representatives of his salvation, as lights to lighten dark places, as salt to preserve, God wants you. He is seeking for men and women whom he can use."

Mrs. Neth announced the next service for Tuesday, 10 a. m., for women and girls, and requested the official women of the various churches to be present for a conference at the close of that service.

Plenty Of Delicacies Served This Actress

NEW YORK—Avowing that Anna Luther, moving picture actress, devoured $404.53 worth of delicacies for which she did not pay, Reuben, delicatessener, has gone to court to collect. Caviar and goose livers are mostly what Anna ate, declared Reuben, but she did not pass up Italian olive oil, Norwegian sardines, nor Chinese bird-nest puddings, said Reuben.

Month after month, starting from September and ending in January of this year, Miss Luther dropped into Reubens and secured appeasement for her hearty appetite with such coarse morsels of food as satiate the palate of royalty and chorus girls, he claims, and only $200 of the original $604.53 bill would she ever pay.

Reubens is the same close-margined, small-profited, merchant, whom the courts a while back refused to let charge $25 for a roast ham.

Cost Triangle Holds Up Building Projects

CHICAGO—An economic triangle, with contractors, material men and labor at the corners has tied up $100,000,000 worth of building in Chicago, according to architects.

"The material man must reduce his price; the contractor effect harmony out of a chaotic condition and the workman must accept something reasonable," declared Ernest R. Graham, architect.

Graham said there will be little building in the United States until the three elements get together.

It is declared plans for business structures, apartment buildings and dwelling places representing $100,000,000 are lying on the desks of Chicago architects awaiting a readjustment of construction cost.

Carpenters, the architects say, may accept $1 an hour as their part of a program to stimulate building.

Locals And Personals

Miss Ruth Ryan of 332 West Acacia avenue spent the week-end with Miss Ruth Spafford of Los Angeles, formerly of Glendale.

Mrs. P. E. Cory of 820 South Central avenue, who has been confined to her bed for several days, is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Smith of 416 West Wilson avenue are entertaining Mr. Smith's cousin, Harold Weller, from San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Shupp of 1012 North Louise street left yesterday for Mexico City, where Mr. Shupp was called on business.

The Girls' Friendly society of St. Mark's church and their guests will be entertained tomorrow evening at the home of Miss Mabel Evarts, 163 South Central avenue.

The Literary section of the Tuesday Afternoon club will meet tomorrow afternoon at the home of the curator, Mrs. A. M. Williams, 208 South Orange street.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smith, who for the past three months have been making their home with Mrs. Smith's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Bott, of 667 Patterson avenue, moved to Los Angeles Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Bourne of 313 East Elk avenue took part in the play, "School Days," given Saturday at Eagle Rock by the Eastern Star chapter of that city, of which Mr. Bourne is worthy patron.

Arthur G. Lindley, architect, residing at 123 South Belmont street, has been commissioned to prepare plans for a new church for the Romana Methodists. It will be a plastered structure.

If luck continues, perhaps H. F. Croft of 1753 Gardena avenue will be going into the chicken business. One of the chickens owned by Mr. and Mrs. Croft hatched fourteen chicks from fifteen eggs Saturday.

The final concert by the Los Angeles Symphony orchestra will be held at the Ambassador hotel, Los Angeles, tonight at 8 o'clock. Miss Evangeline Quackenbush of this city is a member of the orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Ackley have been enjoying a visit up in Lake county visiting relatives and friends. Mrs. Ackley returned home on Thursday leaving Mr. Ackley to enjoy a few more days up there.

Mrs. S. S. Card of 319 Patterson avenue was in San Bernardino Saturday to meet her niece, Miss Bess Kidson, who just arrived from New York City and will make her home with her aunt, whom she has not seen for several years.

A meeting of Unity Lodge No. 368, F. and A. M., of which Henry P. Goodwin is Master, was held at the Temple Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock for the purpose of conferring the second degree and for examinations.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Snyder of Walla Walla, Washington, spent the week-end with their cousin, Mrs. C. O. Smith of 312 North Kenwood street. Mr. and Mrs. Snyder have been spending the winter in San Diego and have now left for their home in the north.

A. W. Johnson of Glendale is mentioned as one of the directors of the Pacific Carbonizing company of Los Angeles which has recently been organized with a capital stock of $25,000. E. E. and C. C. Bloomfield of Los Angeles are the other incorporators.

Miss Noan Kelly, sister of Mrs. M. J. Brennan of 519 North Central avenue, and who for the past six months had been making her home with Mrs. Brennan, left last week for her home in Chicago. She is making the trip via San Francisco and the northern route and will arrive in Chicago in about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. A. P. L. Eichler of Los Angeles were visitors in Glendale yesterday, being among the hundreds of homeseekers here. Mr. Eichler is employed in the Los Angeles Examiner editorial rooms and was a very appreciative visitor at The Glendale Evening News plant, having owned several papers in northern California.

Dr. Jessie A. Russell, national chairman of legislation; Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson, state chairman of the Home Department, and Mrs. J. I. Wernette, representing Mrs. J. R. White, attended the executive board meeting of the California Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher association at the Friday morning clubhouse, at which Mrs. Harry J. Ewing of San Jose, state president, was the guest of honor.

To try this method of covering the cracks in furniture soften beeswax until the consistency of putty, then press it into the cracks very firmly, smoothing the surface over with a thin knife. The surrounding wood should then be sandpapered with fine sandpaper, working some of the dust into the beeswax.

Locals And Personals

Mrs. H. L. Baker of 451 Milford street had as luncheon guests recently Mrs. George Drury, Mrs. J. N. Lingren and Mrs. Roy Butler.

Mrs. Pearl Moore of 1259 South Maryland avenue will be hostess tomorrow evening to the members of the Nimble Finger club.

WORLD IS GROWING BETTER, DECLARES LOCAL PASTOR

MINISTER GIVES NUMEROUS INCIDENTS; SAYS PROGRESS IS NOT AUTOMATIC

"Is the World Growing Better?" was Rev. C. M. Calderwood's theme at the First Congregational church yesterday morning. The text was from Ecclesiastes, the seventh chapter and the tenth verse: 'Say not thou, what is the cause that the former days were better than these, for thou dost not enquire wisely concerning this." Rev. Calderwood said in part:

"If this question had been asked ten years ago we would have quickly shouted an affirmative answer. Now, in view of recent happenings, we hesitate a bit. We want to answer this question in the affirmative. Most of us are optimists. We do not want to be fooled or blind optimists. We must face the facts. Our temperament or our digestion often answers this question for us.

"We have heard considerable about 'good old days' from our fathers and teachers. Poetry and other literature have glamoured over the past with a thick veneer of gloss. Distance lends enchantment. Through the veil of the centuries the defects of the past are not easily seen. History leaves the blackest side of life in the shadow. It is easy to idealize the past. We often compare a short space of time today with a century of ages ago. Or we compare the worst of today with the best of yesterday.

Now It Is Different

"The idea that the world is growing better, we are told, is a comparatively new idea in history. The evolutionary hypothests has opened up the idea of progress all along the line. Even the Greeks in their great age did not thing that they were living in a progressive age. Virgil envied Homer and Dante envied Virgil. The renaissance took their inferiority for granted. The ancients had the idea of 'perpetual recurrence,' the same old round, but no progress. Now it is different. We have traced man up a long, slow, narrow ascent from crude savagery and barbarism, superstition and ignorance to the man of intelligence, conscience and soul of today. When we see what progress man has made we look ahead for more progress, but this is not inevitable.

"In some respects the modern age seems worse. We have had bitter wars. Millions have lost their lives on the battlefield and in their homes. Homes and cities have been destroyed. Millions of people in Europe and China are starving. This is an age of peculiar isms. There is an indifference to many of the best things of life. Idealism that was so strong during the war seems now to have been submerged by selfishness. Home ties are weak, divorce is common and there is a wave of crime.

Better in Most Respects

"In most respects the world is much better. Take the matter of justice. Slavery is abolished. Woman is no longer the chattel of man. Children are given a chance today. Foot-binding and child-marriage and child-labor are gone. We consider the right of mankind today.

"In the matter of criminal law, there has been much progress. Yesterday saw the most cruel methods of punishment, crucifixion, disemboweling, burying alive, the rack, the stake. These were only yesterday and were cruel and heathenish.

"Think, too, how much better we take care of men's bodies today. Name the wonderful cures and operations.

"As for crime, look up the facts. In England 400 years ago there were sixteen times as many murders as today.

"Examine the records of corruption and graft and choose between yesterday and today. What was yesterday's record for social evils? See the development of the social conscience of today.

Was Religion Better?

"You say religion was better in the 'good old days.' Was it? One Christian student in Bodwin college and twelve in Yale a little over a century ago. President Jackson went to a cock fight on Sunday. Tennyson's aunt thanked God that He had damned all her neighbors but saved her. That was the social conscience of yesterday. Churches were built by gambling and celebrated by drunkenness. Ministers owned distilleries. Preachers went on slave-catching expeditions, and asked for God's blessing. See the misery of those 'good old days.'

"But progress is not automatic. We can devolute as well as evolute. It is for us to determine. We have the power and wisdom of God to help us if we strive to go ahead. We must do our part in bringing in the Kingdom of God. Don't let the world collapse. Save it."

HEAT!

"I don't have ter preach long in de winter time," said Brother Dickey. "W'en de church stove gits red hot I jes calls de attention of de sinners ter it, and dat's all de preachin' what dey needs!"

BATTLE FOR HEALTH ON LARGE SCALE OVER RUSSIA

DRUG STORES NATIONALIZED AND MEDICAL SUPPLIES EVENLY DISTRIBUTED

BY PATRICK QUINLAN
Written for the United Press

NEW YORK—Every war carries virulent diseases in its wake and the recent war brought into soviet Russia a number of epidemics which took root instantly, because of unsanitary conditions and the lack of proper food. One epidemic came close upon the heels of another and Russia was caught in the grip of cholera, Spanish influenza and the typhus plague.

Properly speaking, the typhus epidemic began in the fall of 1918 and reached its climax in the spring of 1919. Over a period lasting less than ten months the total number of typhus cases registered was 1,299,263, of which between 8 and 10 per cent ended fatally. In the cities, where the food situation was practically acute, the scourge spread most rapidly and proved most disastrous.

During the summer months a marked decline was visible in the number of typhus cases registered with the people's commissariat of health. The disease received a new lease of life in the winter months, when the soviet army advanced into Siberia, where the scourge had taken deep hold. When the epidemic had practically disappeared in the east i began to crop up in the south. Other epidemics marched alongside the soviet army, such as smallpox and typhoid fever. These had to be met, as well as typhus, and the soviet government, with wretchedly limited means at its command, set bravely to rid the country of devastating diseases.

Fusion of Services

The peoples' commissariat of health is under the expert direction of Dr. N. H. Semashko and represents a fusion of all medical services in the country. Previously, during the Kerensky regime, there existed several independent organizations functioning along their own lines and often duplicating or working at cross purposes. These were united into a single independent body which is called the peoples' commissariat of health. While other governments are still discussing the advisability of establishing a department of health, soviet Russia is the first country to have actually done it. This commissaria operates in outlying districts through local branches assisted by workers' and peasants' committees. For example, all through the typhus epidemic these committees undertook to inspect the baths, the supply of soap, the sanitary condition of the houses and the public institutions as well as to spread by word of mouth correct information and advice on questions of hygiene. The committees were formed in all important districts in the large cities.

The stamping out of typhus, according to the reports of the commissariat, is in large part due to the activities of workers' and peasants' committees. Labor in the factories have been protected by sanitary measures; motherhood and childhood have been the first care of the state; hospitals were opened free of charge to members of all classes. In the latter there are about 500,000 beds for persons suffering from epidemics. The ambulatories and the medicaments are free. All drug stores have been nationalized and medical supplies are distributed in a fair and systematic manner.

A word must be said for the preventoriums and general therapeutic work. There are at present four district organizations engaged in physic-mechnical-therapeutic work, and suspects are compelled to attend these and remain under observation until pronounced in good health by the doctors.

During the war, owing to the extreme lack of medical supplies, the peoples' commissariat of health was compelled to resort to the most primitive methods to combat typnus. Not only did the country suffer from a shortage of medicines, but there were not enough doctors and nurses to meet the needs of the people. One measure employed turned out to be quite effective. The government equipped a health propaganda train and sent it through the country carrying men and women speakers who explained to the ignorant peasant and careless town-dweller the simple measures of personal hygiene.

EVANGELISTIC TALK GIVEN SUNDAY BY DR. C. M. CRIST

WORLD BOTH EXPECTS AND NEEDS GUIDE, DECLARES PASTOR IN SERMON

At the First Methodist Episcopal church Dr. C. M. Crist preached an interesting evangelistic sermon Sunday morning from Acts 8:31. "And he said, 'How can I except some man should guide me?'

"These words," said the speaker, "were spoken by a man of Ethiopia, a eunuch of great authority under Candan, Queen of the Ethiopians. He had come 1200 miles to worship and learn the way of life and was returning home disappointed. He was met by Phillip, the evangelist. A conversation ensued. Phillip inquired, 'Understandeth thou the scripture which thou readest of the promised Christ?' And the eunuch answered, in the language of the text. Then Phillip opened his mouth and began at the same scripture and preached unto him Jesus. With the result that the eunuch believed, was baptized and went on his way rejoicing.

"Phillip was a successful evangelist. The world today in Glendale and elsewhere both needs and expects a guide. God needs men more than money. Gifts are needed and praiseworthy, but God wants us, ourselves. And in no way can we be so happy as to comply with his request—then guide others to him. By personal individual work. This incident of the text is one of the finest examples of record. Let us consider for a few minutes some of Phillip's characteristics and the essentials for our equipment:

"First—In communion with God, 'and the angel of the God spoke unto Phillip.'

"Second—Obedience to the message to leave the crowds and go out to meet the individual.

"Third—Phillip was skilful, tactful and pleasant.

"Fourth—His message was scriptural. He preached unto him Jesus.

In closing he urged upon the church their duty and privilege as everyday evangelists.

W. N. Bott, president of the minute men, delivered a five-minute address. A gratifying report was made that the Ladies' Aid society had turned in a check of $500 to go toward the building fund.

Mrs. Seymour G. Smith Hostess At Luncheon

One of the smartest events of the local social season took place Saturday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Seymour G. Smith, of 416 West Wilson avenue, when nearly two score of the friends of Mesdames Noble J. Ripley and Wayne R. Smith, formerly Misses Catherine and Dorothy Hobbs, were present at a luncheon in honor of these two popular young ladies. The party was a four-course affair and was highly successful from every angle, the guests being unanimous in the opinion that the occasion could not have been improved upon.

The hostess was ably assisted by Mrs. John Huntley, Mrs. J. Herbert Smith, Mrs. Gladys Stevenson and Miss Virginia Huntley. After the luncheon the guests enjoyed the remainder of the afternoon by playing bunco, Mrs. Esther Bradley carrying off first honors and Mrs. John Logan being awarded the "booby" prize.

Before the bunco game began, however, the two ladies of honor were presented with sets of beautiful polychrome candlesticks with appropriate blue cathedral candles mounted in them.

The color scheme throughout the afternoon was artistically carried out in the dainty shades of blue and pink, each course of the luncheon even being carried out in this pleasing combination. The walls of the home were cleverly adorned with scatterings of pale pink rosebuds, while the exquisitely designed place cards were also worked out in this same delicate tint.

Those who were included in Mrs. Smith's guest list were, beside those who aided her to make the affair a success, the guests of honor, Mrs. Noble J. Ripley and Wayne R. Smith, and Mmes. John Hobbs, A. Stevenson, John Logan, A. N. Kapus, D. H. Smith, William Justema, Joe Webster, A. W. Beach, Esther Bradley, Grace Simon, Lillian Farner, Emma Legge, Lola Carroll, Esther Balthis, Ardis Beach, J. S. Ripley, Aileen MacMullin, C. O. Pulliam; Misses Marjorie Imler, Helen Kapus, Myrtle Pulliam, Waunita Emery, Mary Logan, Ernestine Lyon, Cecilia Lyon, Lila Webster and Lila Shea.

W. O. Bruess To Be Present At Luncheon

W. O. Bruess, an Ohio rubber tire manufacturer who has taken an option on a large acreage west of the Southern Pacific tracks adjacent to Glendale, will attend the luncheon of the Chamber of Commerce board of directors tomorrow noon at the model bungalow in the Glendale Union High school. As his mission is important and concerns the great industries which he plans to locate here, all of the directors are urged to attend.

Richardson D. White, chairman of the auto park committee, expects to make a definite report regarding a site for the proposed camp grounds for the accommodation of tourists. E. L. Schuyler and L. T. Rowley are other members of the committee who accompanied Mr. White on an inspection of sites Friday.

In the absence of C. C. Cooper, president, Jesse Smith, first vice-president, will preside at the luncheon.

GREATEST NEED FOR GLENDALE TOPIC OF MINISTER

REV. W. E. EDMONDS SAYS THAT NEW RECOGNITION OF GOD IS REQUIRED HERE

The Sunday morning's sermon by Rev. W. E. Edmonds at the Presbyterian church was upon the subject of "Glendale's Greatest Need." Its text was three passages from Psalm 119: "My soul cleaveth unto the dust: quicken thou me according to thy word"; (v.25) "I am afflicted very much; quicken me, O Lord, according unto thy word"; (v.107). "Plead my cause, and deliver me: quicken me according to thy word" (v.154). A resume follows:

"It would be interesting to take a vote as to our greatest need. Some would say, a sewerage system, or water, or schools, factories or hotels. Yes, all are needed. But all these may be had and we yet lack the greatest essential. The greatest need is a new recognition of God. Except the Lord keep the city, the watchman waketh but in vain. We are sliding in morals. There are those who rebel, and God cannot have any dealings with them till they repent. The one who says, 'Quicken thou me,' is not an outsider; there is life there, but sluggish, cold; there has been a letting down. Not that there isn't any love, joy, peace; but it should be abundant, as a flowing spring.

"There should be quickening in self-sacrifice. In China a missionary named Crossette died lately who had been so busy in utter devotion to the people that they called him the Christian Buddha. You owe your life to be given in unselfish service.

Quickening of Faith

"You need to be quickened in your faith—faith in God's power to save and to keep. And this quickening needs to come as to our beliefs; our convictions. There is a looseness in the air today. Some of it comes through the movie. On account of the great wrong in the movie on the great things of life, the whole thing needs to go. As liquor has had to go, so it will have to be with the movie. And there's a looseness as to the Sabbath, and as to family religion, and matters of belief. Now, what do you stand for about all these things? Are there no more men and women who believe something definite and are willing to live and die for their faith? 'We are not living in the dark ages with those poor old martyrs.' No, there are no stakes or thumbscrews for us, and we ought to be far more than we are. The days of the martyrs are gone, but sin is not dead. But neither is God dead; he is a helper forever.

"You need this quickening to enable you to stand up under the problems of life. David does not pray for lessening of his burden, but more life to assume larger burdens. You may have unseen griefs or trials: for these you want quickening. An old forty-niner patiently was seeking gold only to meet continual disappointment. At last in utter discouragement he shot his wife and himself. The men pulled out his drill where he had left it, and on its tip found at last rich gold. Had he held out another day he would have been rich. Oh, the discouragements! How can you live life without God's heartening?

It's Personal Request

"It is a personal request, 'Quicken thou me.' We ought, indeed, to pray for all others; but this is for myself. And 'according to thy word,' not according to men. This word forever stands. As we stake our every thing on this word God will look after us and his word.

"Have you read that story of Jonathan Edwards, how, on one occasion he preached that mighty sermon, 'Sinners in the hands of an angry God.' When it was so marvelously blessed in the conviction of souls; and the secret was that a little company of his members shut themselves up heedless of food and sleep, and gave themselves up to prayer for God's hand of power upon their pastor.

"In the name of Christ, the lover of men, then 'quicken thou me, according to thy word!'"

Asserts Man Expects Impossible From Wife

PORTLAND, Ore.—Sparkling epigrams touching on love and marriage were presented by Dr. W. T. McElveen, pastor of the First Congregational church, in a lecture at the B'nai B'rith forum.

"Home, that should be a world of hate shut out and a world of love shut in, is, strangely, the place where we grumble the most and are treated the best," declared Dr. McElveen.

"Better give your daughter to a man without money," advised Dr. McElveen, "than give her to money without a man.

"A man frequently loves himself and marries his ideal of himself, and then blames his wife because she does not live up to all the virtues he can imagine."

A woman is not the duplicate nor counterpart of a man, according to Dr. McElveen, neither is she "the pale copy of a man with some of the stronger elements left out."

WINS CHALLENGE TROPHY AND HIGH HONORS BY MAKING STRENUOUS JOURNEY

Buick first!

In a sensational run into Yosemite valley via Wawona Road, a dauntless Buick crew was forced to clear the mountain roads of trees felled by the winter's wind, battle with the snow banks, dig out of mud and ford swift mountain streams and all on some of the steepest grades winding into the national park.

Even then it was first to make the trip and won the Yosemite Lodge perpetual challenge trophy by defeating all contenders in the contest of durability and human ingenuity.

It was a 1921 Buick, strictly stock touring model, fully equipped and carrying five passengers which won against all of the obstacles and entered the national park without a bit of trouble or a change of tires.

Letter Is Sent Out

"Simply in keeping with Buick superiority," said W. A. Tanner of Tanner & Hall, local Buick agents, as he read the following letter sent the Howard Automobile company, coast distributors, by the Yosemite National Park company:

"In an effort to stimulate interest in the opening of the roads to Yosemite National park each year, and to make the park available to motorists earlier than it otherwise would be, Yosemite Lodge has decided to establish a perpetual challenge trophy to be given to the first car entering the park each year over an open road.

"We believe that this trophy will result in constructive good for Yosemite and the hundreds of motorists who annually visit the park. It will be of emblematic design, executed in bronze and silver and mounted on polished redwood.

"It gives me great pleasure to notify you that the trophy has been awarded this year to you and the 1921 Model Buick Touring car for your splendid run over the Wawona Road, arriving at Yosemite, Saturday, April 2, and receiving a motor permit which was endorsed by Superintendent Lewis to show that this was the first car entering the park that way in 1921.

"With all good wishes,
"Sincerely yours,
WILLIAM SELL, JR.,
"Manager, Yosemite Lodge."

Price Level To Be Reached Soon, Claim

CHICAGO—The bottom level of the decline in the price of commodities will be reached in May, according to Halbert P. Gillette, prominent economist and editor of Engineering and Contracting. Gillette has devised a mathematical formula for determining the average price of commodities and for predicting prices several years in advance.

Gillette's formula gives the index or average price of commodities. His method involves the use of only five variable factors, the data for every one of which may be found in the statistical abstract of the United States census.

He has tested his formula by application to prices extending back thirty years. In each instance one is able to "predict" the average price of commodities for any year during the last thirty years.

Through a systematic study of the per capita production, bank deposits and clearings, labor wages and commodities during thirty years, Mr. Gillette predicts:

That good times are near at hand.

That the lowest point in the slump in prices will be reached in May.

That the new average level of prices will be 60 per cent higher than it was in 1913.

That the new average level of wages will be 60 per cent higher than it was in 1913.

"The peak of the high prices was reached in May, 1920," said Gillette in an interview. "Prices at that time were at the index figure 272—as compared with the 100 normal of 1913. That is to say that prices cost 172 per cent more in May, 1920, than they did in 1913.

During February, 1921, statistics just received show that prices had dropped to 167. My calculations show that prices will continue to drop until they reach 60 per cent more than in 1913 and will remain at that level as an average, unless affected by extraordinary circumstances, for ten years or more.

"Wages which are governed by the same conditions, will also be 60 per cent higher than they were in 1913.

"In the nature of things, common labor must accept a 20 per cent cut from the average scale now obtaining, that is, the scale must be reduced to 160, or 60 per cent above the 1913 scale.

"In some branches of work, such as teaching and office work, which did not advance as did common labor during the war, the wage scale will be increased in bringing things back to normal."

GIVE BLESSINGS TO CATHOLIC CHURCH CORNERSTONE

The material building reminds one of the spiritual building, according to the prelate who related Bible incidents in proof of Christ's divinity —how Jesus restored the sight of a blind man and resurrected Lazarus from the grave.

"Christ is God," he said, "and He established the church on earth to do precisely what He Himself would do were He to remain here on earth. But He desired that men should take up His work and preach the doctrine that He preached and help men to heaven.

"Christ came for the redemption of mankind. We are bought at the inestimable price of His own precious blood. Christ came not only to redeem but to teach mankind so that they might know how to apply to themselves the fruit of his passion and his death."

The prelate then went on to relate the succession of authority in the church from the time of St. Peter and declared that the Catholic religion had been the bulwark of civil government throughout the centuries, mentioning how members of its faith had unreservedly answered the country's call in the late world war and how the priests by the thousands went to the battlefields as chaplains.

In closing, Monsignor Harnett congratulated the people of Glendale on the acquisition of the new church, and he looked forward to the successful dedication of the edifice at an early date.

Edwin Albright led the audience in the singing of the Star Spangled Banner which concluded the services.

GOOD INFLUENCE OF CHURCH REQUIRED IN COMMUNITY

CIVILIZATION CAN'T SURVIVE WITH IT, DECLARATION OF DWIGHT STEPHENSON

Dwight W. Stephenson, president of the Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale, gave the following address at the cornerstone ceremonies of the Church of the Holy Family yesterday afternoon:

"I was very glad to be able to accept the invitation you extended me as president of the Board of Trustees of this city to be present this afternoon, and it is a pleasure to meet with a portion of my fellow citizens at the laying of the cornerstone of their new house of worship. This indeed must be an occasion of great rejoicing for you, as it marks the realization of your dreams. As you rejoice, I am sure the city as a whole rejoices with you.

"A clean city progresses as its churches progress. The church of God has always gone hand in hand with civilization and always will do so. No civilization has ever survived without the good influence of churches, and in many instances churches have restored civilization when other mediums have failed.

Religious Liberty

"Yet, I am sure that no one of us is desirous of any church interfering with our government, federal, state or municipal, for that would destroy the good influence that churches exert over all of us, and would deprive us of the religious liberty we always have enjoyed. Such a thing is un-American and I know that all are trying as best we know how to be good Americans.

There was a time when churches were intolerant of each other and spent their time in quarreling as to which special brand of theology was the correct one. Unfortunately, even today there are certain narrow-minded individuals who still believe they can best serve their God by criticising those who do not happen to agree with their particular creed; but, thank God, the churches as a whole have quit this petty quarreling and are uniting in their endeavor to lead men upward to a better plane of living and leaving to the individual the right to follow such creed as he may desire.

No Questions Asked

"During the late world war, the Young Men's Christian association and the Knights of Columbus worked hand in hand in helping to make the life of the men on the field and in the camps better and more enjoyable. No questions were asked as to whether a man was a Catholic or Protestant. All were welcomed by both of said organizations. Why, the first Sunday I was in camp I noticed a Catholic priest holding services in a Y. M. C. A. building. This is a fair example of the good feeling that now prevails in this country between the two main divisions of the Christian faith, and it is hoped that this spirit of mutual helpfulness will continue to the end of all time.

"Let me again extend to you the best wishes of our city and assure you that even though we all may not adhere to the same creed, we rejoice with you in this, the beginning of the realization of your dreams."

KILL THOUSANDS OF RABBITS

Farmers of Hanford estimate the community saved $2000 in shooting 1000 rabbits in the extensive drive recently.

'Road Of Ambition' Is Feature For Glendale

Conway Tearle's first starring picture under the Selznick trade-mark is "The Road of Ambition," and if his following vehicles are up to the standard of this, which opened a two-day engagement at the Glendale Theatre yesterday, Mr. Tearle will soon be running the field of photoplay favorites a very close race for first honors. It was the first of the Selznick previews here and is attracting visiting southern California and Arizona exhibitors as guests of Manager William A. Howe.

Elaine Sterne's story provides Mr. Tearle with many opportunities, and he makes the most of them all. From the time he makes his first appearance as Bill Matthews, foreman of the Bethel Steel works, he has the spectators right with him. His ideals and ambitions are but the reflections on the screen of the ideals and ambitions of the average man, and when, at the climax of the story, Bill Matthews reaches the top, every one in the audience sits back with a sigh of satisfaction, as if the success of the screen character had been their own.

Pathe News, Topics of the Day and the fifth episode of "The Son of Tarzan" round out the bill. Madame Clement delights her audiences with the special organ selection, "Just A'Wearying for You."

Tomorrow Owen Moore is featured in "The Chicken in the Case," another Selznick preview.

Visiting Priests Take Part In Services For New Church Sunday

Priests from Los Angeles and adjoining cities who took part in the cornerstone laying ceremonies of the Church of the Holy Family here yesterday in addition to the parish priest, Father James S. O'Neill, were as follows:

Monsignor Patrick Harnett, Father George Donahoe, Father Zachary Maher, Father Patrick O'Donoghue, Father Cornelius Deene, all of Los Angeles; Father Francis Woodcutter of Sierra Madre, Father Welch, president of Loyola college and Father Clarence Kimmons of Van Nuys.

It is said that yesterday's event in Glendale marked the first time that laymen have taken part in any similar Catholic ceremony.

Father O'Neill reports that $325 was collected as a free will offering.

Takes Motion Pictures Of Ceremonies Behalf New Catholic Church

Another step in the progress of this city was registered yesterday afternoon at the cornerstone ceremonies at the new Catholic church building as Harry Cooper, cameraman for the Mermaid comedies at the Astra studio here, took motion pictures of the event. With him was Walter Stevens from the same studio and they snapped several group pictures.

The Davis Photo Service of 107 South Maryland avenue also had a cameraman busy taking snapshots of the speakers. Showing its enterprise, The Glendale Evening News arranged with both photographers for pictures and it is enabled today to present them, Mr. Davis having rushed out the prints which were taken immediately to the American Engraving plant in Los Angeles, where the cuts were made during the night.

Charles Ray Picture Palace Grand Tonight

Charles Ray—the inimitable boy of the films—is the drawing card at the Palace Grand today and if the pleasure expressed by Sunday's throngs is any criterion of what may be expected today, it would be wise to be early at any of the five showings of "The Old Swimmin' Hole."

"The Old Swimming Hole" is immortal in poetry, being the most popular of James Whitcomb Riley's many verses. And in its picturization, the character of the barefoot boy who would rather play hookie at this time of the year than learn reading, writing and 'rithmetic carries everyone back to those good old-fashioned school days of yore. It is a human interest photoplay with a thread of romance you will want to see and see again.

Tomorrow "Mamma's Affair" is the feature.

Unique Preview Given Of 'Invisible Power'

A novel preview of "The Invisible Power," Goldwyn's production of the Charles Kenyon photodrama featuring Irene Rich, was given at the Palace Grand theatre, Glendale. It was put into the evening's program unannounced. About twenty film folks slipped into the theatre incognito and were given seats here and there among the regular patrons.

After the preview the movie folk were guests of Mr. Kenyon at a dinner party, where he, as author, Miss Rich as feminine star and others of the cast and connected with the production of "The Invisible Power" were congratulated on the success their picture had enjoyed with the unprepared Glendale audience.

Among those invited were Pauline Frederick, House Peters, Sydney Ainsworth, Will Rogers, Clayton Hamilton, Rex Beach, Gloria Swanson, Harry Carey, Milton Ross, Charles Clary, De Witt Jannings, Ruth Roland and other notables of the motion picture and literary world.

Of all the noted stars who stole into the theatre Miss Rich alone was recognized, being greeted by exclamations of recognition as she passed through the crowd at the entrance after the show. She created quite a little furore, while at the very elbows of the crowd, undetected and enjoying the situation, were other film idols.

TOP OF UNITED STATES

An aerial view of the top of Mount Rainier, the 14,500-foot peak of Washington, was recently made. The aviator was forced to make an ascent of three miles to get the picture, and the photograph shows one of the now extinct volcano craters.

SPEAKER TELLS HOW STATE DEVELOPED FROM PRAYERS

JOHN STEVEN M'GROARTY OF MISSION PLAY FAME AT CORNERSTONE LAYING

John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, was introduced by Father O'Neill as the principal speaker at the cornerstone laying of the Church of the Holy Family yesterday afternoon. He said in part:

"Mr. Mayor, Reverend Clergy, Ladies and Gentlemen: The fine spirit of this beautiful city of Glendale has been eloquently expressed by the honorable mayor of your city and it must have warmed the heart of a good American like Father O'Neill to hear these words from the mayor.

"And it is true that regardless of how we may differ in religious and political belief, there is no difference in our Americanism. It must be good to get together with your fellow American, Father O'Neill, in the dedication of this new church.

"As I rode from the mission in your neighboring city of San Gabriel this afternoon, a great thought struck me—the same words are being used to lay the cornerstone of this new church as were used to lay the cornerstone of California itself —the same words, the same ritual a century and a half ago.

No Difference in History

"We may differ and have a right to differ as to our sentiments and beliefs in religion and politics, but there can be no difference in history. And the wonderful fact about California's history is that this country was brought into civilization, not by the cannon and by the sword, but by the means of prayers at God's holy altars. A wonderful contrast between the history of the civilization of the west coast and the Atlantic where the savage heathen were civilized from block houses and out of existence.

"Here in California they came not with swords and guns, but led the savage people by the hand to the ever-living God and civilized the savage race and converted them to Christian faith. And they left behind them almost the greatest chapter ever written in human history—they left a little handful of Franciscan friars who not only civilized the race of savages, but taught them to do a white man's work.

Chain of Old Missions

"They builded upon this coast the wonderful chain of old missions which are left to us as the only historical monuments from east to west and north to south. It is almost unbelievable that this work could be done in such a short time by a lazy, shiftless race.

"But these wonderful old Franciscan priests, did by love and Christian charity and endless passion, what could not be done by any other means. And this church which has been reared in your beautiful city of Glendale is only another temple to the living God that has been reared here since the history of the civilization of California began."

In concluding, Mr. McGroarty bespoke for Father O'Neill, whose parishoner he is, the good work being done in the community by the parish priest and he said:

"I am very proud of this distinguished honor as a Catholic layman today to join with the many of you present in the best wishes for this new temple of worship and the success of its devoted pastor."

RAPIDLY GROWING BAMBOO

The bamboo sometimes grows two feet in twenty-four hours. There are thirty varieties of this tree. The smallest is only six inches in height, and the largest, 150 feet. Bamboo is a staple material of manufacturing utility in the orient.

STUDY OF CHILDREN IS INTERESTINGLY TOLD IN BOOK

INSTRUCTIVE VOLUMES JUST RELEASED AT BRANCH OF GLENDALE LIBRARY

More interesting and instructive volumes were released Saturday at the branch of the Glendale public library, Brand boulevard, Los Feliz Road, in charge of Charles H. Cushing.

"To spank or not to spank," that was the question that confronted Tom and Alice Marcey when the unfolding character of their young son began to disturb their state of complacent parenthood. The question was settled temporarily, but with the successive children they soon discovered that "every child's mind is a wild, trackless place, with little trails wandering about it, down which thoughts can walk "but that thoughts make different kinds of tracks in different children's minds.

Mary Heaton Vorse in "Growing Up" shows how Alice Marcy made a study of her children and tried to see the "other side" of the child life, the side which they try to hide from grown-ups.

The book is delightfully entertaining as well as helpful to parents who have the same problems to meet.

"Roads to Childhood; Views and Reviews of Children's Books" is by Annie C. Moore, supervisor of work with children in the New York Public Library. This will be a wonderful help to parents in guiding their children's reading.

"Terrible Island" by Beatrice Grimshaw is an exciting story of adventure in the South Sea Islands.

"The Spell of Brittany" by Ange M. Mosher has the charm of a book written by one who loves her subject.

"The Happy Hunting Grounds" by Kermit Roosevelt will appeal to all sportsmen and also gives an intimate glimpse of the happy relations between Theodore Roosevelt and his children.

Juvenile Books Released

"Weatherby's Inning" and "Captain of the Crew" are two more school stories by Barbour.

"The Girl Who Sat by the Ashes" is a new version of the old story of Cinderella, told by Padraic Colum.

"A Little Freckled Person" by Mary C. Davies is a collection of charming little poems appealing to childhood.

"A Boy in Serbia" by E. C. Davies gives in story form a good description of peasant life in that country.

"Peace and Patriotism" is a splendid collection of both prose and poetical selections on these subjects compiled by Elva S. Smith.

McMaster's "Primary History of the United States" is concise with many good illustrations and written so as to attract the younger children. It brings it down to the close of the World War.

"The Geography of the World War and the Peace Treaties" by McMurray presents many valuable statistics of the war in a graphic way and shows with maps the new boundaries.

Motion Pictures Are Displayed In Colors

LONDON—Soon women will be able to study film fashions presented in natural colors.

At a recent film exhibition at the Palais de Luxe, Picadilly, of a new process invented by the Russian scientist, Professor Gorsky, the picture showed the hues of the actors' clothes, and the brilliant background of trees and flowers were reproduced with all the vividness of nature.

Fashion friends are quick to grasp on the new scheme with a view to showing off their gowns and new creations to the best advantage. It is expected that Professor Gorsky's invention will cause a revolution in movie methods.

The World Today

By F. H. VESPER

Assistant Vice President, Glendale Branches, Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank

F.H. Vesper

Every newspaper has its "Don'ts." The list is carefully compiled and is as carefully revised year after year. It is for the guidance of the editorial and the reportorial writers and for the men on the "copy desk" and in the composing room.

Every employe concerned in the big task of getting out the paper soon learns these "don'ts" by heart —especially the proofreader, with eyes trained to note an error almost instinctively, whether it be typographical or a "don't."

The range covered by the average newspaper's "don'ts" is a wide one. It may be in stressing some point in the policy of the paper. It may be a command to avoid a certain form of construction or to avoid some grammatical error which, through carelessness in the preparation of "copy" might easily creep in and, in the nerve-straining hurry of getting the paper out on scheduled time, might remain undetected through the many hands it passes.

The list of "don'ts" may even cover such points as the use or non-use of abbreviations of names and other matters of a similar nature. Some publications, for instance, will capitalize the names of the seasons. Others will have this particular "don't" on their list of "don'ts." Some publishers and editors of leading newspapers have even been known to place the name or names of prominent men, in the heat of some campaign or controversy, on their respective newspaper's list of "don'ts." If it became necessary to speak of those "tabooed" it was done by some other means than by name.

On the same principle that a newspaper maintains a list of "don'ts," the safe deposit department of a bank could well outline a list of "don'ts" that would not prove offensive. If carefully followed such a list would make it hard for those bent on thievery. It would undoubtedly save many patrons from serious loss of valuables and of time.

Briefly, some safe deposit department "don'ts" might be offered as follows:

Don't leave valuables at home or at the office.

Don't discuss with strangers your valuables, whether they are at home or are in your safe deposit box.

Don't inform slight acquaintances that you are leaving town for a time.

Don't carry sums of money from the bank or jewelry or valuable papers from the safe deposit department in your hands or open purses; it is only an incentive for some one who might be watching to make you a victim of theft.

Don't lend your keys to any one, whether of your home or office, if among them is that of your safe deposit box.

Don't allow your keys to remain in your safe deposit box while you are absent at one of the booths.

Don't neglect to report the loss of your safe deposit key immediately.

Don't examine the contents of your safe deposit boxes except inside one of the booths and thereby out of view of the public.

Don't fail to look carefully before leaving the booth to see whether you have left anything.

Don't go without a safe deposit box if you do not have one.

The latter injunction is an important one. Safe deposit boxes of various sizes are available at the Main Office of the Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank and at the following branches of that bank: Eighth and Olive, Second and Spring, Wilshire Boulevard in the Ambassador Hotel, Huntington Park, and at both the Brand Boulevard Branch and the Glendale Avenue Branch in Glendale.

Want Seed? Write To Walter F. Lineberger

A communication has been received from Congressman Walter F. Lineberger, newly-elected in the ninth congressional district, which relates to the distribution of garden seeds.

Congressman Lineberger makes the statement that he has received his allotment of the government seeds, and that they are ready for distribution, but that none will be sent unless he is in receipt of a postal card from the person desiring them.

"I do not believe in clogging up the mails with these garden seeds when it is quite possible that hundreds of people who receive them do not want them and never make use of them. To those who especially desire them they will be sent on receipt of a postal card addressed to me at Washington."

Another thing that baffles science is how to tell whether a cat is in his first or his ninth life.

CITY TRUSTEES OF BURBANK PROVIDE SEWERAGE BONDS

ENGINEERS GOING AHEAD WITH PLANS; NEWS NOTES FROM SAN FERNANDO VALLEY

The city trustees of Burbank have adopted an ordinance providing for the issuance of $140,000 bonds, recently voted, for a sewer system. The engineers are going ahead with the plans, although there is said to be some question as to how disposal of the sewage shall be made.

Ice Plant Is Installed

Charles Huth has installed an ice plant at Zelzah to provide refrigeration for his market and to accommodate his customers during the coming summer months when the valley grows warm under the semi-tropical sun.

Chautauqua Financial Success

The San Fernando chautauqua this year is a financial success, the committees from the Women's club having put the ticket sales over easily. Undoubtedly Glendale's chautauqua will fare as well.

New Kiln To Be Observed

The Empire China company at Burbank has sent John Rowe, superintendent of the concern, to Trenton, N. J., to observe the operation of a new form of continuous kiln with a view of installing a similar one in the coast factory. The clay deposits in Nevada will be developed immediately for production by the factory this summer, according to William Jackson, president of the Empire company.

Purchase Residence Property

Miss Irene McQuiston is visiting her sister at Hansen Heights, coming to California from Galena, Kas. Her parents preceded her and have purchased residence property in Glendale. Miss McQuiston will reside here.

Hand Cut by Broken Glass

Robert Ogden, a little Roscoe lad, while carrying a bottle of milk home from a neighbors on Saturday night, stumbled over a stone as it was dusk. He didn't mind spilling the milk, but a tendon on the right hand was cut by the broken glass bottle. Although he was taken to Burbank for surgical attention, some miles away, it is said that he did not even cry a tear from the pain.

Opening Bids on Budget

Today bids are being opened at Sacramento by the State Highway commission which are of importance to San Fernando people. Contracts for bridges over the north and south branches of the Big Tujunga river are sought. When these improvements are made there will be no break in the pavement from Pasadena to San Fernando by the way of the Monte Vista valley.

Improving Chicken Ranches

In the vicinity of Roscoe the Collins brothers are improving one of the most modern chicken ranches in the valley. The brooder house will have a capacity of 2500 chicks. Already the first incubators have been set. John Williams is another who has a chicken ranch, but without the hatchery. He is caring for 2000 chicks and his whole family which collectively has been sick.

American Legion Holds Dance

The Tujunga American Legion held a dance at Bolton hall Saturday night for the benefit of the new fire wagon trailer which is being purchased by the community. It is similar to the one installed in the garage at the rear of Drury's La Crescenta store Saturday. It contains numerous chemical tanks, picks and shovels. Such equipment is useful in controlling brush blazes as well as saving homes.

Delegation to Make Protest

When applications for a concession to the platform for public dances in Monte Vista park comes before the Los Angeles county board of supervisors Wednesday afternoon, there will be a delegation of Tujunga people present to protest as such would curtail the free use of the park by the public.

Odd Fellows to Institute

The Independent Order of Odd Fellows will institute a lodge in Tujunga tonight at Bolton hall. There are 14 members in the Monte Vista valley at present and it is expected that with novitiates there will be a strong branch of the order there soon.

Drug Store for Montrose

It is understood that a drug store is to open at Montrose. Also La Crescenta talks of incorporation which may include part of the Montrose tract. There is a wonderful amount of development in the foothills adjacent to Glendale and it is only a question of months until one or two new towns spring into existence as Tujunga, too, has the "bee" for being a city.

GREAT INCIDENT IN MODERN HISTORY. PASTOR'S TOPIC

DECLARATION OF LUTHER AT HIS HEARING RELATED BY REV. H. C. FUNK

"Greatest Moment in Modern History," was the subject by Dr. H. C. Funk at the First Lutheran church Sunday. His text: "And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." John 8:32. He said in part:

"Jesus said, 'I am the way, the truth and the life,' and because he bore witness to the truth he was hailed before Pontius Pilate, falsely accused, and condemned to die the cruel death of the cross.

"Saul of Tarsus was stricken blind by a light that was brighter than the noonday sun. He was made blind physically that he might have his spiritual eyes opened to know the truth. He was brought before Felix, and as Paul reasoned of righteousness, temperance and judgment to come Felix trembled. And yet Paul died a martyr's death because he dared to stand fast in the liberty wherein Christ had made him free.

"John Huss denounced the false doctrines of the church and he was burned at the stake. Arnold was bold enough to declare that the church had no grounds on which to rest its claim for temporal power. He insisted that the clergy should live as Christ and the apostles did, supported by tithes and free will offerings. The Pope banished him, and Emperor Frederick hanged him.

"These early reformers did not succeed, but they aroused the consciences of other men against the spirit of oppression that dominated the church and state, thereby preparing the way for the coming of a mighty man who could face the emperor and defy the Pope successfully. The fate of these forerunners was well known to Luther when he was excommunicated, and afterward cited to appear before the emperor on April 17, 1521, four hundred years ago today to answer once for all whether he would recant or not.

Europe Is Shaken

"Luther's Ninety-five Theses, nailed to the door of the Castle church at Wittenberg nearly four hundred years before, was the enlightening leaven that had shaken Europe from center to circumference. Frederick, the Wise, was the friend of Martin Luther, and the young Emperor Charles V was under obligation to Frederick. This placed Frederick in a position to assist his friend. The shrewdness of the elector would indicate that he was worthy of the name, "The Wise," for he refused to consent to having Luther appear at Worms for trial unless the emperor would guarantee a safe conduct to the Diet as well as a safe return. It was also stipulated that Luther must be permitted to go of his own accord.

"The young monk had burned the papal bull of excommunication; and when he was warned not to go, he uttered those memorable words: 'Though there were as many devils in Worms as there are tiles on the roof yet would I go on.' Luther had become immensely popular with the masses, which was the ground upon which the safe conduct was assured. His entrance into the city of Worms on the 16th day of April, 1521, was a great ovation. A trumpet call announced, 'He's coming!' and the streets were soon so crowded that they were compelled to go through a private garden to get Luther to his place of entertainment.

"On the 17th day of April he was summoned to appear before the Diet at 4 p. m. As he was about to enter the door of the great hall a general with a gray beard laid his hand on Luther's shoulder and said: 'Little monk, you are about to go into a more terrible battle than I or my knights have ever engaged in; but if your cause is just God is with you, and you need have no fear.'

"On the throne, rich with costly gold brocade, sat the young emperor. He was surrounded with princes, archbishops, cardinals, dukes, margraves and the ambassadors of all the rulers of Europe. It was the greatest assembly ever convened on earth, for the world's pomp and glory had gathered there. Carlyle declares that 'Luther's appearance before the Diet at Worms on the 17th day of April, 1521, may be considered the greatest scene in modern European history; the point indeed, from which the whole subsequent history of civilization takes its rise.'

Called Bit of Rag

"Luther had railed against the worship of saints and the sale of indulgences. He said to the Pope: 'This thing of yours that you call a "pardon of sins"; it is a bit of rag paper with ink. It is nothing else. God alone can forgive sines.' And now the monk is called upon to recant. On his way the people crowded the windows and the housetops, calling out to him: 'Free us; it rests with thee; desert us not.'

"Luther did not betray his trust. His speech was of two hours' duration, given on the second day. It was marked by a dignified bearing, a wise, submissive and honest appeal to the Word of God. When a final answer was demanded, he replied: 'I will give you one with neither hoofs nor horns; unless I am refuted and convinced by proofs of Holy Writ, or by plain and just arguments, I cannot and will not recant. My conscience is bound to the Word of God. On this I stand. God help me, I cannot do otherwise, Amen.'

"The emperor was amazed; but the people were delighted, and popular sentiment now ran high in Luther's favor.

"But you may inquire, 'what are some of the results that have come to us through this heroic staand?' We answer, first of all, personal liberty. The consciences of men had been bound by the official representatives of the church, by priests and popes. The personal liberty that we now enjoy would not be ours had it not been for the heroic stand of Martin Luther at Worms. Modern education, with its free school system, are the results of the reformation. The separation of church and state, and the religious liberty to worship God according to the dictates of our own conscience have come to us as a result of Luther's stand at Worms.

Two Direct Results

"The parsonage and the pastor's wife are two direct results of Luther's position. He broke up a nunery and married one of the nuns, Catherine Von Bora. He afterward declared that she was God's greatest gift to him, and that he would not give her up for the dominions of France and Venice.

"An estimate of the value of Luther's influence for the good of humanity may be had by a comparison with other public men. According to the catalogue of the British Museum, which certainly would not err in favor of the German reformer, no other name, save that of Jesus Christ, exceeds or approaches the amount of space given to the registering of titles of works about Martin Luther.

"England has had more to say about Luther than any other nation except his own. That the English Bible was translated largely from Luther's German version, and that the thirty-nine articles of the Church of England were founded on Luther's formulas is generally known.

"In concluding, we will let others bear testimony to the greatness of our hero. Rev. S. F. Buchanan, of Oxford, said: 'I may say that spiritually I owe more to Martin Luther than to any of my own countrymen, and am under a greater debt to him for his bravery, for his courage, for his truth, for his humanity, and for his total abstinence from all hypocrisy. If you ask me what was the grand thing about Martin Luther, it was that the man had not a line, not a trace of hypocrisy in his whole composition.'

"George William Curtis said: 'In the truest sense Luther is the father of modern civilization.'

"Henry Ward Beecher declared: 'Our civilization is the result of the open Bible which Luther gave us.'

"Phillip Brooks said: 'All human progress must remember Martin Luther.'

"And John Calvin said: 'It is not so much Luther who speaks, as God, whose lightnings burst from his lips.'

"Luther was not a free thinker. He stood not so much for personal liberty as he did for God's word. The Bible is that foundation for all true liberty and for true democracy. 'My conscience,' said Luther, 'is bound by the Bible.' He was a captive to the Word of God."

YOSEMITE NATIONAL PARK
CALIFORNIA
OPEN ALL YEAR

Howard Automobile Company,
Van Ness Ave. & Calif. St.
San Francisco, Calif.

Gentlemen:

In an effort to stimulate interest in the opening of the roads to Yosemite National Park each year, and to make the Park available to motorists earlier than it otherwise would be, Yosemite Lodge has decided to establish a perpetual challenge trophy to be given to the first car entering the Park each year over an open road.

We believe that this trophy will result in constructive good for Yosemite and the hundreds of motorists who annually visit the Park. It will be of emblematic design, executed in bronze and silver and mounted on polished redwood.

It gives me great pleasure to notify you that the trophy has been awarded this year to you and the 1921 Model Buick Touring Car for your splendid run over the Wawona Road, arriving at Yosemite, Saturday, April 2nd, and receiving a motor permit which was endorsed by Superintendent Lewis to show that this was the first car entering the Park that way in 1921.

With all good wishes,
Sincerely yours,
William Sell, Jr.,
MANAGER, YOSEMITE LODGE

WS:CVC

In this sensational run the Buick Crew was forced to clear the mountain roads of trees, battle snow, mud, and ford swift mountain streams on some of the steepest grades winding into Yosemite Valley.

Big Trade In Baby Chicks Over Counter

NORWALK, Conn.—The chicken counters at the five and ten-cent stores here are doing a rushing business this year. It's a strange life the baby peepers sold as "merchandise" lead. Snatched from the "brood hen" incubators before they reach the tender age of one day, they arrive at the popular five and ten emporiums via the mail. Purchased by flappers for pets, and by housewives for future dinners, they leave the stores, chirping singly in the fur muff of a cooing young mistress, or crowded together in the bottom of a water pail. The only grown-ups of their species they ever see are not of the feathered variety.

Twenty negroes were brought to America in 1619. So the negro has been an American one year longer than the Pilgrim.
